Park it on green

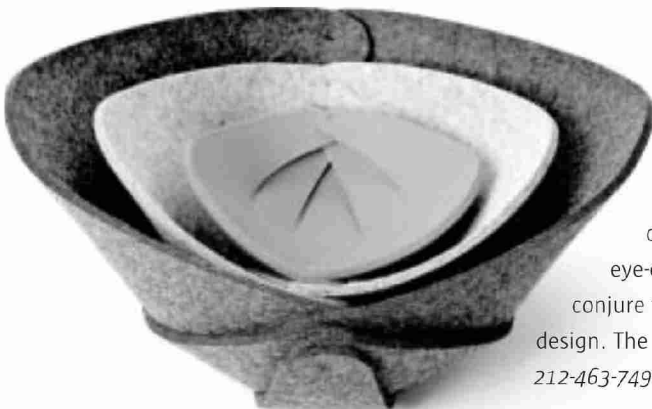

The eco-chic trend in home furnishings moves forward this spring with European design luminary Jean-Marie Massaud's new collection for Environment Furniture, the California company known for using reclaimed woods and repurposed fabrics. The pieces conceived by Massaud will have an artful, contemporary flair. "Sustainability is an investment in quality, competence and timelessness," the designer said in a statement about his new collection, which will be officially unveiled in April at the International Furniture Fair of Milan. Environment Furniture is represented in the Denver-area by Ashley Campbell Inc. (262 Fillmore St., 303-996-6195, ashleycampbell.com) and D'Amore Interiors (9500 W. 49th Ave., Wheat Ridge, 303-422-8704, damoreinteriors.com). *Environment's Giramundo Swivel Chair, $2,595, is pictured here. Don't space out doggie duties

Coloradans love their dogs, but even the most devoted animal lover may occasionally lose track of feeding and walking schedules. Enter Dog-e-Minder, a company that makes simple, easy-to-use products to assist pet owners with everyday tasks. Especially apropos for people caring for aging or sick pets, the Dog-e-Minder key chain is a digital device that records when an animal was last walked, fed or received medication. It's also helpful for training or for assisting pet-sitters/walkers. $19.95 at dogeminder.com.

Heartfelt housewares

Artware Editions, the New York City store and website that collaborates with visual artists to produce accessibly priced home products, recently released its newest edition of felt nesting bowls. Entitled the Fjord Collection, these eye-catching pieces were created by sculptor Michelle Jaffé and conjure the rugged, simple beauty of Scandinavian design. The price is $250 for a set of three. To purchase, call 212-463-7490 or send an e-mail to info@artwareeditions.com.
